Introducing the Lightest Hydraulic Levelling System in the World

Engineered specifically for the new Ford Transit Custom and Volkswagen Transporter, the HPC Self Levelling System sets a new benchmark in lightweight performance and reliability.

At just 3.2 kg per jack, these are the lightest hydraulic levelling jacks in the world, delivering exceptional strength without compromising payload. Designed for modern light campervans, this is the ultimate solution where weight, space, and performance matter most.

Official Launch: August 2026

Officially launching in August 2026, the new HPC Self Levelling System for Ford Transit Customs and Volkswagen Transporters is destined to redefine expectations in the light campervan market. Expectation is already building among converters and OEM partners keen to integrate the world's lightest hydraulic levelling system into their 2026 builds.
